PP x Rosie Bossom: THE ART OF THE LEAF

The Art of the Leaf is an evocative collaboration between Petra Palumbo and interior decorator Rosie Bossom, reimagining a Mogul Khan needlework design from the Tapisserie Ltd archive into elegantly embossed metro tiles.

Born from a shared creative vision and a passion for tactile storytelling, the collection features a design brimming with botanical grace and timeless appeal. It balances archival heritage with a modern, sophisticated sensibility across six bespoke autumnal colourways.

Designed for effortless versatility, the tiles can be aligned to form a seamless winding trail or mixed for a fragmented, contemporary look, a refined aesthetic already showcased within the interiors of West London's Little Julie's Deli.

Embossed metro tiles inspired by archival Mogul Khan motifs. Designed for versatility, they can be aligned to create a seamless winding trail or mixed for a fragmented, contemporary aesthetic.

Sold in sets of 6 tiles to ensure a seamless pattern repeat.

Inspired by our wallpapers, this collection is sold in sets of 2 or 4 tiles, ensuring a seamless pattern repeat.

Our collection of vibrant tiles and trims have been designed to sit in perfect harmony with our patterned wallpapers, allowing you to create a space that feels layered, thoughtful, and complete.

CARING FOR YOUR TILES

Taking care of your House of Petra tiles keeps them looking fresh and helps them last longer. Regular cleaning prevents things like cracks or mould, so you won't have to worry about costly repairs later. Plus, it helps keep your home looking great!

Use a mild, non-abrasive, pH-neutral cleaner to clean your tile surfaces.

Steer clear of abrasive pads, steel wool, metal brushes, or scouring pads, as they can scratch the glaze.

Alternatively, you can make your own by filling a spray bottle with 1/4-cup baking soda, 2 tbsp. dish soap and 2 cups water. Squirt the spray over the tiles, and wipe down with a damp cleaning rag. Wipe the tile with a damp cloth once more, and follow with a dry towel to prevent water spots.

For tile longevity, we recommend that you limit exposure to direct sunlight to ensure no colour fading occurs.
